

Please do not lessen Indiana's "don't call" rules. I can answer my phone without worrying about telemarketers. I can enjoy my evening time with my family without annoying phone calls. I never feel pressured by telemarketers, who sometimes are very abusive when told "no". Sometimes the telemarketer calls back several times when you refuse to purchase their product. I find these actions very intimidating. I am so glad my state took action in this matter.